Item 1.01. Entry Into a Material Definitive Agreement.

In October 2006, Regeneron Pharmaceuticals, Inc. ( Regeneron ) entered into a license and collaboration agreement with Bayer HealthCare LLC ( Bayer HealthCare ) for the global development and commercialization outside the United States of EYLEA (EYLEA aflibercept) Injection (the License and Collaboration Agreement ). Under the License and Collaboration Agreement, Regeneron and Bayer HealthCare collaborate on, and share the costs of, the development of EYLEA through an integrated global plan. The License and Collaboration Agreement also provides that Bayer HealthCare will market and sell EYLEA outside the United States and that the companies will share equally in any profits from ex-U.S. EYLEA sales. Regeneron retains exclusive rights to EYLEA in the United States.

On May 7, 2012, Regeneron and Bayer HealthCare amended the License and Collaboration Agreement by entering into an Amendment Agreement (the Amendment ). Pursuant to the Amendment, Regeneron consented to the commercialization of EYLEA in Japan pursuant to a Co-Promotion and Distribution Agreement by and between Bayer Yakuhin, Ltd., an affiliate of Bayer HealthCare LLC, and Santen Pharmaceutical Co., Ltd. ( Santen ), dated May 7, 2012, which was executed concurrently with the execution of the Amendment (the Santen Co-Promotion Agreement ). During the term of the Santen Co-Promotion Agreement, upon marketing authorization, Santen will market along with Bayer's Japanese subsidiary, and sell EYLEA in Japan. Pursuant to the Amendment, the financial arrangement between Regeneron and Bayer HealthCare with respect to the commercialization of EYLEA in Japan has been converted from a profit split, as provided in the License and Collaboration Agreement, to a royalty payable by Bayer HealthCare to Regeneron that is intended to approximate the economics of the profit split. Regeneron will receive a tiered royalty of between 33.5% and 40% of EYLEA net sales in Japan. This financial arrangement may revert to a profit split under certain specified circumstances. The Amendment also adjusts, with respect to the commercialization of EYLEA in Japan, certain of the governance and reporting obligations under the License and Collaboration Agreement.

A copy of a press release issued by Regeneron and Bayer HealthCare on May 8, 2012 announcing the Amendment is attached to this Current Report on Form 8-K as Exhibit 99.1.
